

Topic: New SSR code BLKS

Dear partners,

As of 1 April, airBaltic is introducing a new SSR BLKS – small bulky baggage.

Please see the difference between SSR BLKS and SSR BULK below:

SSR BLKS - used for non-standard baggage and sport equipment that are not included in the BT defined equipment list, and that exceed the standard baggage dimensions of 100x50x80 cm in any single dimension, but where the total sum of all dimensions does not exceed 230 cm (example: $120 + 30 + 80 = 230$).

SSR BLKS fee at the airport – 75 eur.

SSR BULK - used for non-standard baggage and sport equipment that are not included in the BT defined equipment list, and that exceed the standard baggage dimensions of 100x50x80 cm, where the total sum of all dimensions exceeds 230 cm (example: $120 + 50 + 80 = 250$).

SSR BULK fee at the airport - 75 eur.