

Topic: Not Used Airline Material

Dear All

Leaving airline material at the trash container below the check in counter or anywhere accessible to the public is strictly prohibited! Even if you destroyed them or tore them apart.

Material which can still be used must be kept in the locked check in cupboard. Reprinted bag tag and boarding passes which you don't use must be brought to the office and disposed there.

If these are made available to the public, anyone could reuse those tags and drop off anything for a live flight, or anyone could read the data which is stored in the barcodes printed on the boarding passes.

These shall not be available under any circumstances!

Thank you!

Norbert
